Drag King Color Therapy Aug 21 2020 Are you ready to lose yourself in spectacle that is Drag? Are you ready to color away all your anxiety, depression, stress and woes? Are you ready to bring your favourite Drag Kings to life through coloring? Are you tired of boring colour therapy books about cats, mandalas, flowers and swearing? Are you ready for a new King to rule the kingdom of color therapy and coloring books? Well darling if you're ready give me a butch "Yes Sir" or a confidently masculine "Hell yeah Dude." A Drag performer is a person, most commonly male, who dresses in clothing of the opposite sex and will often exaggerate features, mannerisms and stereotypes that society holds about that sex. When most people think about Drag they picture Drag Queens, with their fabulously over the top make up and attitudes, however Drag Kings are becoming increasingly more popular within recent years. A Drag King will often be the epitome of heterosexual masculinity. The exaggeration is normally achieved through the application of synthetic facial hair, make up that masks femininity, stereotypically butch/ hunky outfits, comedy and endless jokes about sex, sports and other stereotypically male dominated spheres.

While Drag is often associated with the LGBT community, especially gay men, there are Drag Kings of all sexualities, genders and identities. Drag has become a pop cultural phenomenon since the release of 'Ru Paul's Drag Race.' This coloring book contains hand drawn portraits of the following fabulous, hunky and butch Kings: Adam All, Hetty King, Ivory Onyx, Vesta Tilley, Landon Cider ad Mo B. DIck. The beauty, confidence, colorful aesthetic and exaggerated comedy of Drag Kings make them the perfect subject for a anti stress, anti depression and anti anxiety color therapy book. This book contains 15 professional designed illustrations of some of the world's most popular Drag Kings.

Color Psychology and Color

Therapy Feb 19 2023 2013 Reprint of 1950 Edition. Full facsimile of the original edition, not reproduced with Optical Recognition Software. American writer Faber Birren devoted his life to color and it's effects on human life. After writing around 25 texts on the topic, it would be safe to say his work is considered highly among color experts and psychologists around the world. Birren's work has a strong focus on linking how humans perceive colors to how it makes them react. He writes, "Good smelling colors are pink, lilac, orchid, cool green, aqua blue." Birren explores the work of several physicians, scientists and doctors, mainly the German psychoanalyst and physician Felix Deutsch, whose findings throw important light not only on medical practice with references to color but on the whole psychology of color. Birren states that if a person prefers warmer colors such as hues of red and oranges, they are likely to be more aware of their social environment. He labels these as "warm color dominant subjects." On the other hand, those preferring cooler colors such as blues and greens, are categorized generally as "cold color dominant subjects" and are recognized as finding it challenging to adapt themselves to new environments and situations." By splitting people into separate categories, based on their color preferences, Birren finds himself able to establish a greater understanding of their personalities and characteristics. One experiment Birren explores in his text, courtesy of Kurt Goldstein, involves a subject standing before a black wall with his eyes shut and arms outstretched to touch the wall in front. When the subject is influenced by a warm color such as the color red, his arms deviate away from each other, whereas when under the influence of a cooler colour such as green or blue, even though the reaction is a subtle one, the subject will move his arms closer together. I find this experiment, simple as it is, to be fascinating in highlighting the strong effects colors have on our minds and bodies. As well as distinguishing the differences in peoples' character through his use of color psychology, Birren also touches on the effects colors can have on the mentally ill. This section was the most interesting and involved a series of complex experiments such as discovering which neurological disorders were linked to which colors. Courtesy of the work by Hans Huber, it was proven that patients suffering manic tendencies preferred the color red, a symbol of blood and anger. Hysterical patients were more sensitive to green, "perhaps as an escape," the color linked to paranoid subjects was found to be brown and schizophrenics are sensitive to yellow. Birren states that persons troubled with "nervous (neurotic) and mental (psychotic) disturbances are greatly affected by color and are responsive to it." Therefore color becomes much more significant to them, and affects them in a completely different way than those without such neurological disturbances. Chapter 12 "Neurotics and Psychotics" is the most compelling in the text as it relates to my dissertation topic. After struggling to find texts specific to my research subject, this text and its contents came as a welcomed discovery and I will be referring to Birren's work throughout my further research.

LGBT ABOUT THE AUTHOR During my childhood and my teenage years, I found myself prone to taking 'action' to relieve my daily stresses, problems and grievances. Unfortunately, the 'actions' I took tended to be extremely self-destructive in nature. It wasn't until I was older that I realized how calming, stress relieving and relaxing colour therapy books can truly be - I guess the term 'therapy' should have made that obvious to me, oh well. I have always had an interest in things that have been considered to be 'socially unacceptable' and 'taboo,' and wanted my coloring books to reflect this. Hence the creation of 'Colorful Coloring Books,' a series of adult themed color therapy books that aim to give you both a relaxing and enjoyable experience, and to also, hopefully, make you laugh along the way. All forms of Feedback are greatly appreciated! This coloring book makes a perfect gift, stocking filler, secret santa or personal present for the Christmas period.

Calm Color Therapy Coloring Book Feb 13 2020 Calm Color Therapy Coloring Book As an art therapist, it is important for one to be aware of the possible meanings and symbolism of different colors that clients may use in their art. At times, clients will consciously choose a color to use and have a specific meaning. Other times, color may be chosen unconsciously but still play an important role. If the client does not know why they chose a color, the therapist can ask if the color makes them think of anything or how the color makes them feel. Coloring books are great material for relaxation and are a great tool as an anti stress method of success, both mindful and spiritual.

Color Medicine Jul 12 2022

A new dimension in holistic healing, Color Medicine provides a powerful technique for treating specific imbalances and strengthening the immune system. By combining aura-attuned chromatherapy with harmonious sounds, tissue salts, and hydrochromatherapy, the 49th vibrational technique was developed. It is safe, simple, economical, and highly effective. A breakthrough, yet as old as recorded medicine, it utilizes the subtle energy vibrations similar to those found in the visible spectrum--the 49th octave. Light energy is processed through color filters and irradiated into the aura. By matching corresponding wavelengths to the organs and systems of the body, it strengthens or sedates energy in the distressed areas, creating a support system for the healing process. A textbook and how-to handbook, it encompasses an encyclopedia of vital fascinating information, charts, diagrams, and tables, as well as methods of treatment and technical advice. Whether you are a holistic practitioner or merely curious, this book marks a new frontier in the world of alternative healing. Alternative Healing Through Chromotherapy Dec 05 2021

Chromotherapy, or color therapy, is a method of therapy that is done using color. In itself color does not heal, but it has been said that it enables the body to heal itself. It probably has something to do with light, frequency, and vibration and how everything works together to make the whole. That is why color therapy is a form of holistic healing - it aims to see the whole picture. Colors have different frequencies and vibrations and even correspond to a certain note on the musical scale. We have heard the words: green with envy, in the pink of health, down in the blues, red carpet treatment, and such. Since the mind and emotions are the most powerful energies on earth, people have come to associate colors with emotions and vice-versa. In order to better understand how color affects our lives, let us see how it has evolved from the simple consciousness of early man to how we have come to use it now in our daily lives.
